BOSTON MORNING POST.

SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1836.

The prospectus for an Extra Globe, issued by Messrs Blair & Rives, occupies about three columns of their paper, is very ably written, and contains a large amount of interesting and valuable political information, and a full history of the plans of the piebald opposition in reference to the approaching presidential canvass. We have not sufficient room to enable us to publish the prospectus in full—but we call the reader's particular attention to the extracts which follows:—

"It is now settled that the three opposition candidates, at first presented in the several sections of the Union, to keep the party from disbanding, as lieutenants of the real leaders of the coalition, shall continue in the field. Electoral tickets in favour of Harrison, will be proposed only in the States of VERMONT, NEW YORK, PENNSYLVANIA, MARYLAND, DELAWARE, OHIO, INDIANA, and KENTUCKY, EIGHT STATES, giving one hundred thirty-three electoral votes. Webster's ticket will be confined to MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, MASSACHUSETTS, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND, and NEW JERSEY, SIX STATES, giving fifty-one electoral votes. White is the candidate of the coalition in the South, and their electoral tickets are to be run in his name only in the States of VIRGINIA, NORTH CAROLINA, SOUTH CAROLINA, GEORGIA, TENNESSEE, LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI, ILLINOIS, ALABAMA, and MISSOURI, TEN STATES, giving precisely one hundred electoral votes. It requires one hundred and forty-five votes (the majority of two hundred and eighty-eight electoral votes) to elect a President. It is obvious, therefore, that if the opposition candidates were each to succeed in carrying their electoral tickets in the several States where they are presented, and the Democratic candidates were defeated in them all, that no election would be made by the People. It is conceded, however, even by the opposition, that Mr Van Buren will obtain the vote of several States in each of the districts assigned to the separate tickets of White, Webster, and Harrison. The only hope of the opposition rests on the possibility of sectional and personal influences operating so far in favour of their candidates, as to prevent the Republican candidate from obtaining the requisite majority, and thus devolve the election on the House.

In the House the Federal party have a control over the following States: MASSACHUSETTS, VERMONT, MARYLAND, DELAWARE, OHIO, KENTUCKY, SOUTH CAROLINA, ALABAMA, LOUISANA, and TENNESSEE—10.

There is a Democratic representation from MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, RHODE ISLAND, CONNECTICUT, NEW YORK, NEW JERSEY, PENNSYLVANIA, VIRGINIA, GEORGIA, INDIANA, and ILLINOIS—11.

The States of NORTH CAROLINA, MISSISSIPPI, and MISSOURI, are equally divided in their representation in the house.

If, then, the avowed object of the opposition—avowed in their public presses—should be acomplished in giving the choice of Chief Magistrate to the House, (each State voting through the ballots of a majority of its representatives in the House,) it would follow that there would be no election, unless some members of the Federal phalanx in the House should comply with the will of their constituents, and vote against their party, their own inclination, and principles; or unless a portion of the Democratic side should surrender the cause of their constituents. * * *

Their presses, once all in discord, are now in happy harmony. The three Presidential candidates are linked together by their nominees for the Vice-Presidency. Granger's name is associated with Webster's ticket in Massachusetts, and with Harrison's in Ohio. Tyler's ticket bears the White flag in Virginia, and blends it with that of Harrison in Maryland. Granger is to identify antimasonry with Webster in the east, and Harrison in the west. Tyler is to reconcile nullification to White and the severe section of the Force Bill—and, at the same time, reconcile the advocates of southern principles to Harrison and the American System. The effect of these arrangements are already visible to every observer. The friends of Clay, of Calhoun, of Webster, of the Bank, all support White in the south. They are all embodied on Harrison in the middle section, and on Webster himself in the east. There is no symptom of dissension in the allotted divisions among Harrison men, Webster men, White men. The affinity is so perfect that all the White men will vote for Harrison north of the Potomac, and for Webster north of the Hudson; and so Webster's friends are for Harrison west, and White south—Harrison on his part, with equal courtesy in return, resigning his friends on one hand to Webster, and on the other to White, within the sphere of their respective tickets.

If the artifices of the opposition prevail in bringing the election to the House, they must there encounter new obstacles which only can be vanquished by perpetrating a succession of enormities against the rights of the People. The first step is to unite the votes of the ten States represented in the House by a majority of Federal members from each, upon one of the coalition candidates. If Harrison should be the elect of the party in the House, Webster and White must vote their quota of States for him, although he shall not have received one vote from the People north or south, and although it is clearly admitted, by the fact of not running a ticket in his name in the two sections to be transferred, that he could not contend there successfully with the Democratic candidate, yet the votes of the White and Webster representatives in the House must be given to him against the will of their constituents. If it should be White's lot to be the candidate of the factions in the House, (we suppose it will be determined by lot,) then Webster's and Harrison's friends must vote for him, although nothing can be more notorious than the fact that Judge White cannot obtain one electoral vote from the People north of the Potomac and Ohio. This is universally admitted on all hands, and yet he is to be pressed into the the House to have the votes of States given him by members of Congress, whose constituents utterly abjure him as President. If the tables should be turned so as to present Mr. Webster as the antagonist of Democracy in the secret ballot of the House, we have no doubt that the ten States would be more cheerfully made over to him by the disguised Federalists misrepresenting the southern and middle sections, than to either of his colleagues in the game of three pluck one.

But the ten States now in the power of the opposition cannot give them the Presidency. They must have the three equally divided States to compass their purposes They cannot hope to seduce the delegations of Pennsylvania, of Virginia, of New York, in each of which the Democratic majorities are from two to one, to three to one—nor can they hope to operate upon the delegations of Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Indiana, Illinois, and Georgia, where the delegations are unanimously Democratic, with the exception of two members in Maine, and a single doubtful individual in another State. The coalition must, therefore, calculate either on defeating the election of a President altogether, or on obtaining the votes of the isolated republican members from Mississippi and Missouri, as well as carrying North Carolina, by the vote of the individual to be elected from the lately vacated district. * * *

In eight of the States on which the coalition rely, they can only hope to succeed by the vote of a single Representative. In Louisiana, Delaware, Alabama, North Carolina, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, and Maryland, the balance is turned by a single vote in their favor, if their best hopes are realized. They expect the vote of Ohio, though the vote of Mr. Spangler, who admits that he represents a district in which there is a large democratic majority; and in Maryland they must turn the scale by the vote of Mr. Turner, whose district is also decidedly Democratic. The election of one of the opposition candidates, under these circumstances, would present the spectacle not only of three of the greatest States in the Union, NEW YORK, PENNSYLVANIA, and VIRGINIA, entitled to ninety-five electoral votes, weighed down by the vote of a single member from each of the three smallest, DELAWARE, MISSISSIPPI, and MISSOURI, but it exhibits the monstrous injustice of eight States, each carried by the vote of a single member, counterbalancing not only the great States alluded to, and their overwhelming democratic majorities, but five other States, MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, CONNECTICUT, GEORGIA, and INDIANA, in all of which the delegations are unanimous, save three votes—the eight democratic States, in the electoral college, being entitled to one hundred and forty-one votes—the eight counteracting States only sixty-six. The whole thirteen States relied on by the coalition to give them the election, being entitled to one hundred and twenty-one votes; while the eleven Democratic States, to be voted down by them in the House are entitled to one hundred and fifty-seven, a majority of thirty-six in the electoral college.

What would be the result of an election of Chief Magistrate obtained by the prostration of every principle, moral and political, which gave being to the system under which we live? Obtained by putting public opinion under foot—prostituting the representative body—and making the forms of the Goverment a mere machinery to work out the schemes of adroit politicians, contriving to render it a great tread-mill for the nation, in which the People are to do the work—to walk round and round to put it in motion—while the cunning managers are to direct all its power to their own purposes? Would not such an example of the degradation of all popular authority in the Government, of the success of fraud on the part of the few, alienate the affections of the People from our dearly cherished institutions, and beget a spirit in the country, which, in laboring to unseat the power of the triumphant faction, might unsettle the Goverment itself? What administration could conduct the affiars of the high spirited and intelligent community of American republics, when the chief of it should have attained his power, first by deception and treachery to the People, and next by the vilest collusion, traffic, and prostitution, among political confederates? Could the mere forms of a violated constitution prevent a wronged and insulted nation of freemen from rising in revolt to resume their rightful control in the Goverment; and would not the anarchy which has marked the triumph of fraud and force in the South American republics, fall on us with its curse of continal revolution?"

Snakes by the Bushel.—The Barnstable Patriot says that a gentleman at Martha's Vineyard lately found a snake burrow, three feet below the surface of the ground, which contained one hundred black snakes, and of sufficient size to fill a two bushel basket. The Vineyard soil is as fertile as that in some portions of the West, which is described as raising a thousand bushels of frogs to the acre, andligators alh to fence the m in.

The Bangor Advertiser tells a story of a sheep owned by a man who sheared her every Spring and sold her wool for two and sixpence a pound, and killed her every Fall and sold her mutton for four pence a pound; she lived till she was fourteen years old, and never had a lamb, nor her mother before her.

Gen. Harrison, in one of his recent speeches, undertook to prove that because a petticoat was presented to him during the late war, it did not necessarily follow that he was an old woman! The General has adopted the Hibernian logic, that being born in a stable does not make a horse of a man.

The Democrats of Maryland are preparing for vigorous contests at the ensuing elections. The Baltimore Republican is an able and powerful champion in the good cause, and fights valiantly.

Justice defying Law.—A justice of the peace in Cumberland county, Pa., has been arrested, and committed to jail on a charge of burglary.

Bank Effrontery.—We are informed that the banks of New Orleans have in effect made a partial suspension of specie payments. So great is their power and so formidable their frowns, that men in business in that city are selling the notes of the banks at two per cent. discount for specie, rather than offend those dignitaries by presenting their bills at the counters of the banks themselves. In no part of the Union is the pressure so great as in New Orleans, and in no State is there such an immense amount of bank capital as in Louisiana. Should not this teach a useful lesson to those who look to this source for a remedy for our present evils.

There is a new Caricature.—A grand billiard match between the Kinderhook Poney and the Ohio Ploughman. The hero of North Bend is in, and is about to make a grand play for a six stroke. Clay bets a cool hundred on him. Jackson keeps the game—Van Buren is waiting for his turn, and thinks that the bungler, in his determination to make a grand stroke, will hole himself. It is well enough executed.—N. Y. Times.

Arrest for Debt.—Within the last three years, 70,000 persons have been arrested in the city of London for debt, the law expenses of which exceeded two millions of dollars.

Not Bad.—James Smith was asked the other day, if Waterloo bridge was a losing concern or not. "Go over it, and you'll be tol'd," was the reply.

Boon Long has confessed to the authorities of Wheeling, (Va.) that he and a man named Wintringer, murdered a man named Chrisman, in that place, about two weeks since.

"A Country's Gratitude."—Wm. Cutter, a soldier of the revolution is now continued in the Concord (Ms.) jail "for the crime of not being able to pay a debt of $12. In a note addressed to the editor of the Concord Freeman he states that he is "eighty years old"—that he "fought in 1775 at Bunker Hill; in 1776 at Trenton; in 1777 at Ticonderoga, where he was taken and made prisoner by the British, and in 1778 was at the battle of Monmouth." Who is it, that may claim the shame of being the unfeeling creditor of this patriot? We envy him not the pleasure of he may experience by having it in his power thus to punish his debtor for his poverty.—How long will elightened Massachusetts endure the barbarious law which submits free citizens to a felon's fate, for their poverty?—Barnstable Pat.

From Texas.—The editor of the New York Star has a letter from New Orleans, dated 21st ult., which confirms the accounts published in yesterday's Post in relation to the movements of Gen. Gaines and the Indians.—It was rumored that Gov. White would refuse to comply with the requisition of Gen Gaines. One division of the Mexican army had crossed the forks of the Trinity River, and thence were escorted towards Nacogdoches by the Caddo Indians. Great additions to the Texian forces were expected in the course of the present month.

A Great Meeting in favor of the Texians has been held in Philadelphia, at which Cols. Austin and Wharton, and Dr. Archer, Texian Commissioners, were present.—The assemblage was addressed by these gentlemen with great effect, and also by several citizens of Philadelphia. The Ledger, (that sweet, good-natured little paper,) says:—

"It was the most numerous and respectable assemblage we have seen for a long time, and exhibited the most enthusiastic feeling for Texas and her wrongs. Mr Brown and Mr Conrad in the course of their remarks, took occasion to speak of the conduct of certain presses in this city, who have endeavored to chill our sympathies for, and suppress our exertions to aid a chivalric and a gallant people who are now engaged in a struggle for all that man holds dear. Such an exhibition of a want of feeling—of all the lofty and noble impulses of the human bosom, deserves the execration of the whole community."

From Mexico.—Papers to the 7th of April, of the city of Mexico, have been received in New York.

The Diario of the 3d contains a proclamation of Santa Anna to the Texans, in which he warns them of the summary vengeance about to be inflicted upon the enemies of Mexico, but promises safety and protection to all inhabitants of the province, who shall come in within eight days after the arrival of his forces in their immediate vicinity, prove themselves innocent of all participation in the rebellion, and receive the pledge of safety.

Te Deums have been ordered in every part of Mexico. Coro, the President of Mexico, ad interim, has been succeeded by General Parez. Santa Anna admits a loss of 60 killed, and 300 wounded. He calls for 5,000 more troops, and more money. This last request proves the falsehood of the previous assertion.

The following precious morceau, of a lady advertising for a husband, is cut from the Opelousas, Louisiana, Gazette:—

"My complexion is brunette, eyes and hair black, nose Grecian, mouth small, neck slender, bust proportionately full, height 5 feet three inches, ancles and hands delicately formed, fortune about $20,000.

Otis, Broaders & Co. have just published a very beautiful and correct map of Massachusetts, principally compiled from Hale's map of New England. It also contains plans of the principal cities and towns in this State.

Congress.—Both Houses of Congress adjourned on Tuesday, as soon as the death of Mr Manning, a member from South Carolina, had been announced, and the resolutions usual on such occasions had been passed.

Money Recovered.—We understand says the Transcript, that the Merchant's Bank of Providence, has recovered one hundred and sixty-nine thousand dollars of the money of which it was robbed a few weeks since.

The New Orleans Bee says that they have been overrun by emigrant doctors, in consequence of a false report that there was a great deal of sickness in the city, but notifies them that they cannot be permitted to kill any body until duly licensed by the municipal authorities for that purpose.

The Bangor Advertiser says that on bright, pleasant, moonlight nights, the lamps in that city are lighted up before sundown, but when it is damp or wet the lamplighters don't like to expose themselves to the weather.

The editor of the New York Mirror and Mr Horn, the musical composer, are trying to see which can compliment the other the most. We think the musician's strain the highest, although they are both a little out of tune.

A hard one.—The Liverpool Mercury states that there is residing in that city, a woman who has seven living twin children, all at one birth.

We saw a notice the other day, calling a meeting of the "insane poor," in a paper published in another State.—Should n't care about being there.

Municipal.—In Common Council, on Thursday, a report on the subject of the public lands, stating the amount of sales for the past year, was presented and placed on file; the whole amount of sales was $46,983,41. The subject of granting leave to the North Bank to alter the interior of their Banking-house in North Market street was committed to Messrs Marett, Williams and Chapman. A report from the Committee appointed to consider what alteration, if any, shall be made in the ordinance relating to the laying and collecting taxes, accompanied by an ordinance for the collection of the taxes, was submitted, read by its title and ordered to be printed. Messrs Caleb Curtis and Jesse Shaw were chosen assistant assessors for Ward No. 6, in place of the gentlemen formerly chosen, and who declined. On motion of Mr Marett, it was ordered, that ——— with such as the Mayor and Aldermen may join, be a Committee to receive, examine and audit the accounts of the City and County Treasurer for the past financial year. Messrs Marett, Harris and Austin were appointed to the Committee on the part of the Council. Ordered, That the Committee on Public Lands be directed to consider the expediency of selling the City lands on Fort Hill, situated east of Washington Place, between Scott's Lane and Washington Avenue, and any other lands belonging to the City, in that vicinity. The report of the Committee appointed to consider the expediency of selling a portion of the land that was purchased for a School House in Tremont street, recommending that four house lots on the westerly part of the ground be sold, which was specially assigned for consideration at this meeting of the Council, was taken up. The report had been accepted in the Board of Aldermen, and the question was on concurring. A considerable debate ensued on the question, in which Messrs Waters, Williams, Chapman, Park, Joselyn, Austin, Piper, Snow, and some others participated, the first four being opposed to concurring, and the remainder in favor of adopting that course. The question being taken on the concurrence, it was decided in the affirmative by a vote of 22 to 15. The Council then proceeded to the choice of Auditor of accounts, and it appeared that William Hayden, Jr. was chosen. The consideration of the report of the committee on salaries was specially assigned for 8 o'clock on Thursday evening next.—Atlas.

Latest from England.—The British schr Racer, Capt. Toogwood, arrived here yesterday from Falmouth, bringing Falmouth papers to the 31st of March, with extracts from the London papers to the 28th, and a London shipping list of the 30th, the papers contain no political news of any interest.—Jour Com.

Distressing Suicide and Fatal Stupidity.—We have this day to record a suicide of a more than usually painful character, on account of some attendant circumstances, indicating most gross and barbarous ignorance on the part of certain spectators of the scene. The deceased was Lorriman G. Steevens, who kept a grocery and variety store, underneath the Baptist Meeting House, in Broadway, South Boston. For the past two or three days, he was indisposed, and "on Thursday evening appeared to be a little flighty," in the opinion of one of the female witnesses, before the Inquest held by Coroner Slute; but yesterday morning, between five and six, he opened his store, in his usual manner, and had some ordinary conversation with a customer, who wished to purchase some eggs. There being no eggs in the store, the customer went further, and nothing was heard or seen of Mr Steevens, till about half-past six, when he was discovered hanging by the neck in the middle of his store, by a person who attempted to enter. The door was fastened inside, and no one dared to break it open, but the alarm was soon spread over the place. In about twenty minutes Col. J. L. C. Amee arrived at the scene, but the collection around the store strenuously endeavored to prevent his going in, *because it was not lawful to meddle with the hanging man till the Coroner arrived. Col. Amee however forced his way in, and, with the assistance of Deacon Drake, took the deceased down. He was then quite warm and limber, and Col. A. is fully of belief that he breathed faintly once or twice after the cord was removed from his neck. Doctor Gage was sent for, and, in the mean time, friction was sedulously applied to the body; and when the lancet was inserted—thirty minutes after the suspended body was first discovered—the blood gushed out copiously; but he had been so long suspended, that all efforts to resuscitate him were in vain.

It was the unanimous opinion of those who were present at the examination of the witnesses before the Inquest, that, if the deceased had been cut down when he was first discovered, his life would have been saved. Col. Amee literally effected an entrance by force of arms; and if the collection of deplorable ignoramuses, who blockaded the store, had been specially stationed there to guard against the rescue of a malefactor from execution, they could not have more vigilantly repelled all access to the dying man.

No particular cause for the fatal act on the part of Mr Steevens, is known. In business he was rather thriving, than otherwise,—young—say 26—and had only been married about a year, and was warmly engaged in the cause of religion, being a member of Mr Fairchild's church.

The store was a double one—the front being connected with the back, by an arch, across which there ran a small beam, around which the deceased tied a piece of old bale-rope, with a slip noose in the other end, which he placed round his neck. This he must have effected while standing on a chair, which was found kicked on oneside, in the arch.

*An old friend informs us of a similar instance of ignorance, which occurred about twenty years ago, in Milk Row, where the hanging man was surrounded by some forty spectators, who not only refused to help our friend cut him down, but threatened to attack our friend en masse for violating the law!

The Oratorio of Sacred Music, to be given to-morrow evening at the New Catholic Church in Pond Street, promises to be one of the best of the kind we have had for some time. The selection of pieces for performance has been made with excellent taste, and embraces many of the first compositions. Several of our most distinguished vocalists and musicians have volunteered their services, which, united with the benevolent objects to which the proceeds are to be applied, cannot fail of being sufficient inducement to attract a very large audience.

Accident.—A young man 28 or 30 years of age, named John Campbell, a visitor to the Navy Yard yesterday afternoon, was ascending from the upper staging of the Vermont 74, to the upper deck, when the plank on which he stepped, canted, and he fell to the ground, his head striking a stone—he was taken up apparently lifeless, and conveyed to the hospital. The officer of the yard is desirous of making his friends acquainted with his situation, but does not know where to find them.

Bring your little city here, man, and dump it down on one of our wharves, and you will have no occasion to complain of its want of commercial prosperity.—New York Transcript.

The Board of Aldermen have voted unanimously, that Parker & Whitney's Turtle Soup is worthy the patronage of their Honorable Body.

The U. S. Sloop of war Warren, Capt. Taylor, sailed from Key West on the 16th ult., for Havanna.

Destructive Fire.—About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a fire broke out in the cabinet maker's shop of Mr Davis, situated in the block formed by North street, Second street, and Avenues C. and D., which destroyed most of the buildings on the block, and injured some others on those adjoining. We were on the spot very soon after the fire broke out, and remained until half past 7 o'clock, and it is with very great regret we have to state that the extraordinary proceedings of the firemen were the cause of the otherwise avoidable destruction of much property.

After the fire had been burning for about an hour, and when a few more strokes from the engines would have entirey removed all danger, intelligence was brought to the chief engineer, Mr James Gulick, that he had been removed from office by the Common Council, then in session at City Hall. Immediately on this announcement being made, Mr Gulick gave up his command, and retired from the fire. In less than five minutes, almost every fireman's cap was turned, in token of their displeasure, and their determination to make no farther efforts to arrest the progress of the flames. Thus matters remained for about two hours, during which time every exertion was made by two engineers, and many old citizens, to bring the firemen to a sense of their duty, but without avail.

The mayor arrived at about half past six o'clock, and did every thing he could to induce the firemen to act as it was their duty to do, but he did not succeed. Fortunately some gentlemen had gone in pursuit of Mr Gulick, and about half past 7 o'clock he came up Columbia street to the scene of the fire, cheered by thousands as he passed.—Immediately the firemen returned to their duty, and the flames, which were then spreading rapidly through a line of new three story buildings, were soon arrested.

As near as we could ascertain, twenty houses are destroyed, besides the "Union Market house"—a large brick building recently completed, on the corner of Second street and Avenue D, at a cost, we learn, of $15,000.—N. Y. Com. of Thursday.

More Indian Murders.—The correspondent of the Journal of Commerce writes as follows from Key West, Florida, April 23d:—

"By the arrival at this moment of of Mr Patterson, from Charlotte's harbor, we learn that the Indians have killed Dr Creus, and all the persons residing at that place. Dr Creus was inspector of that place, but was succeeded by a Mr Patterson, who had just gone there to make arrangements preparatory to moving there. Dr Creus was a gentleman much respected by those who knew him. He had sometime since sent his wife to Charleston, or she might have shared his unhappy fate.

Slavers Captured.—Captain Bryant, of ship Seamew, from West Coast of Africa, at Salem, reports that an English man-of-war had arrived on the coast, having taken about twenty Spanish slavers, and put on shore at Prince's and St Thomas's Islands about 400 men of the slave crews. They were dying daily for want of provisions, and were begging for food and a passage from the islands.

Libel Indictment.—The Grand Jury, at its recent term, returned an Indictment against Joseph Whitmarsh, editor of the Illuminator, for a libel on Thomas L. Nichols, the editor of the Standard. Both papers are small weeklies, and printed under the same roof, in Court street. The Illuminator is the successor to the "Light," a foul and disgusting publication, which was suppressed in Rhode Island by an injunction, as "a moral nuisance." The Standard was established for the purpose of opposing Catholicism, and assailing the teachers and professors of that faith; and the controversy between the two editors originated in a remark made by the editor of the Standard, that he did not think theatres the worst places in the world. The article alleged to be libellous, propounds sundry insidious interrogatories to Mr Nichols, insinuating divers direlections of moral duty. Mr Whitmarsh was arraigned yesterday, pleaded not guilty, and gave bonds for his appearance for trial at the next term of the Municipal Court.

The Arkansas Gazette states that there is reason to believe that the reported murder of Gen. Coffee and a party of Indian traders by the Camanche Indians, is a sheer fabrication.

FOSTER'S WRITING ESTABLISHMENT, & PRIVATE COMMERCIAL SCHOOL.—The object of this institution is to improve the imperfect hand-writing of adults, and to qualify young gentlemen for the counting-house, in a superior and expeditious manner.
Penmanship, Commercial Arithmetic, and Double Entry Book Keeping, are taught on an improved plan, by which a competent knowledge of those branches may be obtained in one third of the time usually devoted to that purpose.
PRACTICAL PENMANSHIP—Mr Foster's improved system is so simple and effective as to eradicate the most confirmed scrawl, and to substitute in its place, a neat, rapid style of writing, adapted to the practical and every day purposes of life.
☞ Merchants, and others, who experience any difficulty in the free use and command of the pen, can have these obstacles removed in a few lessons—so as to write in a masterly manner, and without labor.
DOUBLE ENTRY BOOKKEEPING is taught in a practical manner. The learner is exercised in buying and selling—in making out invoices and account sales—receiving and accepting bills—effecting insurance—and in keeping the Day-book, Journal and Leger in the most approved forms. The subject of closing and re-opening books—balancing and adjusting individual and partnership concerns—equation of payments, &c., is fully explained and illustrated.
The pupil will open, post and balance two complete sets of Books, and be qualified to act as Book Keeper in the most extensive and diversified mercantile establishment.

NEW ENGLAND CROWN GLASS.—The New England Crown Glass Company have recently erected a new furnace and are manufacturing an excellent article. Their Crown Glass is thick, pure and of excellent color. Its thickness gives it an advantage over all thin glass, which is liable to crack from contraction in cold weather. Its surface not being polished after being blown, retains its enamel, brilliancy and hardness, and is not liable to the objection which applies to Plate Glass, of being easily and permanently bedimmed by dust.
The New England Crown Glass being purer in color than any other Glass, is preferable for Stores, as it does not tinge the rays of light as they pass through it, and therefore white goods particularly appear to advantage; and it is peculiarly useful for Factories, as some minutes of light may be gained morning and evening, in consequence of the absence of color in this glass. The price of second quality is reduced from the rates heretofore asked.
☞ Those who wish to contract for this Glass are requested to specify NEW ENGLAND CROWN GLASS. As much imposition has been practised by dealers in Glass, by deceptive marks on boxes and other artifices, any purchaser who may apprehend he has been imposed upon is invited by letter or personally to apply to the subscriber for any information he may wish to enable him to detect the deception. Orders sent to the undersigned, at Boston or East Cambridge, or to any at the Company's Selling Agents, will be promptly attended to. Persons wishing the appointment of Selling Agent, can apply to the subscriber by letter or otherwise.

EXTRAORDINARY EXHIBITION BY MR SUTTON,
The inimitable European Ventriloquist.

Mr Sutton has the honor of announcing that his first representation will take place on the above evening. The very flattering reception he has met with in the principle cities of Europe, and at the different cities he has visited in the United States, embolden him to hope for the same success here. His style of performance will be found to be quite different to any that have gone before him, and the philosopher, by hearing him, will be able to come to a satisfactory conclusion regarding this occult art.

Important to Housekeepers.

THE SUBSCRIBER at No 8 Milk street, 4th from the Old South, continues to dress or purify feathers with Reynolds' Patent Machine. It is said that old beds that have been thoroughly dressed in the above named machine, are better than new that have not been dressed. Rights to use the Machine in the counties of Suffolk, Norfolk, Middlesex and Essex, are for sale by the subscriber.

JACOB SMITH.

Boston, May 2, 1836.

About six months since I examined Mr Smith's Machine for purifying feathers, and being satisfied that it must produce the effect for which it was intended, I sent a bed to be purified, which had been dried and aired in the ordinary way, by an upholsterer, four times in four successive years, without any lasting effect. The process of Mr Smith's machine upon this bed has proved completely effectual. The bed continues to be in perfect order, and the bulk of the feathers is permanently increased 25 per cent. F. EMERSON.

CAUTION.—Notice is hereby given, that the patent granted to me for cleansing and dressing feathers, dated February 7, 1834, has been renewed with a more correct specification according to the act of Congress in such case made and provided—and that this renewed patent is dated October 17th, 1835, and has been submitted to the examination of learned counsel who have pronounced it to be valid, and the invention well secured to the patentee. Now, therefore, this is to caution all persons against using without my license and consent, my invention, or any of the different modifications of it, with which some portions of the community have been deceived by designing men who prefer pilfering to an honest livelihood, as I am determined to prosecute all infringements on my right, to the full extent and utmost rigor of the law.

☞ A Gentleman in Thomaston, was many years afflicted (thought incurable) with ulcers in his throat, pain in his limbs loss of appetite, universal debility, and otherwise diseased; his life dispaired of, was restored to perfect health and spirits by a few boxes of these Pills.

☞ A Seafaring man, suffered so severely from this complain for two years, as to be often deprived of his rest, had pains in his limbs, sore throat, headache, enlargement of the glands of the neck, scull bone affected, a bad cough, no appetite, entirely debilitated, and considered as past relief, having tried other medicines in vain, was cured, and restored to perfect health, by a few boxes of these Pills!

☞ An invaluable property! "I feel myself (writes a person, after using these Pills,) thoroughly cured, and believe this invaluable medicine has completely eradicated the complaint from my system; a property which I think this remedy possesses beyond any other with which I am acquainted, and is a desideratum in my view, which renders it above all price."

☞ A treatise explaining the various symptoms, with full directions, (so that persons of either sex can cure themselves) encircle each box.

⁂ Price of the Pills $1 a box—the Injection Powders and Cerate, 50 cents.

☞ Prepared from the original Recipe in MS. of the late Dr W. T. Conway, by his immediate successor and the sole proprietor, T. ADAMS'S PATENT

THE subscriber has on hand a good assortment of the Swelled Beam Windlass Bedsteads, which, for comfort and convenience is undoubtedly the best article yet invented; its chief peculiarity is that of the Swelled Beam, the effect of which is to produce a crowning, and elastic sacking, and effectually provides against its saging. They are easily set up or taken down, and may be saved in case of fire as easily as any other piece of furniture, and from its mode of construction less liable to harbor insects than any other kind; but above all its advantages is the ease and comfort obtained from the sacking, by means of its being made and kept elastic by means of the Swelled Beam, (the form of which is exhibited in the above cut.)

Orders thankfully received, and promptly attended to

CHARLES ADAMS, Patentee,
422 Washington st. a few doors south of Washington Bank.

THOMSONIAN BOTANIC INFIRMARY, No 554, Washington-street, BOSTON, Opposite the Worcester Rail Road Ticket Office.—The subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has taken that large and spacious Infirmary above named, and formerly occupied by Dr Brown and himself—that he has fitted it up in a style not surpassed by any other in the State for convenience and comfort: the rooms are large and airy, and command a fine prospect of the Worcester and Providence Rail Roads and the surrounding country on the West—Boston Harbor, its islands, shipping, light houses, &c. on the East, with the most pure air of any part of the city. The subscriber is also determined that nothing shall be wanting through every department of his Infirmary as to neatness and regularity, good order, the best of nursing and attention, to make every one who favors him with their patronage happy and contented. He has also a valuable library of the best selected books for the instruction and amusement of his patients. He has also in readiness clean changes of linen for all patients who come to take single courses of medicine, and India Rubber coverings for the mattrasses and beds he always uses to prevent contagion. His steam boxes have windows with curtains, so that patients who are feeble can at any time put out their heads and breathe fresh air. The boilers are so constructed that he can at any moment graduate the steam to suit their wish or ability to bear, so that there is not the least danger to the most feeble constitution, not even for an infant of a month old. The shower of two quarts of cold water is delicious, though we never insist on it, as it is always a matter of choice with the patients, and a person who has once taken it will never after be denied, but will frequently call for more. The said subscriber has owned Dr Samuel Thomson's family right nearly three years, has given strict attention to its precepts, and for the five last months has administered pure Thomsonian medicine to over two hundred persons, many of whom suffered under the most desperate complaints, and had been given over to die by the regular physicians—and such has been his success, that out of the whole number every individual except two persons have been relieved, and more than three fourths cured who have left his Infirmary, one only having died at the Infirmary. He will still continue to administer Thomsonian Medicines in their purity at his Infirmary, assisted by Dr Darling in all difficult cases, who has been a regular Practitioner of the Thomsonian System for more than fourteen years in this city. Mrs. Badger will attend to the Ladies department at all times—she having been an experienced nurse over eighteen years, a part of which time she was nurse in the Massachusetts General Hospital, since in private families, and for the two last years a strict Thomsonian nurse. The subscriber would respectively invite the afflicted of all descriptions to call and examine for themselves, and if they should see fit to put themselves under his care, let their disease be what it may, if timely application be made, he will ensure a speedy relief.

N. B. For sale at the above establishment, a general assortment of pure Thomsonian Medicines, done up with directions for use, at wholesale and retail.
